RIVER NEWS.

—The changing of the channel of the Missouri river at Weston, enabling steamboats to land immediately at the town, has greatly revived the hopes of the citizens there in the future prosperity of the city.

—The following are given as the dimensions of Captain DeHaven's new boat, to be built at Jeffersonville: The length of the keel will be 350 feet; length over all, 365 feet; breadth of beam, 63 feet; with over all, 107 feet.

—Passing through the canal at Louisville, Tuesday evening, the snag boat Petrolia failed to signal the man at the draw in time, and she ran against the bridge, knocking down both of her chimneys.

—The ship carpenters and caulkers at Madison, Indiana, have plenty of work to do, but can't make full time of late on account of the oppressive weather. Some of the men while working in the hold of a boat one day last week took a thermometer down with them, the mercury in which at once ran up to 150 degrees.

—Under the act of Congress of July 28, 1866, there has been, or will be assigned to every merchant vessel of the United States an official number is required to be carved or branded on the beam, under the after side of the starboard forward hatch; must be not less than three-eigths of an inch nor more than one-half of an inch in depth, and not less than three inches in hight. The numerals to be plain block Arabics.

—A late St. Louis exchange says: The stern-wheel steamer Importer will be furnished with a new bow, and a total elongation of 25 feet. The hull will be new from the boilers forward; the nurricane deck will be extended, and lower guards widened to adapt her to the cotton trade. She will run between New Orleans and the Arkansas. Capt. Williams has found the Importer to be an excellent boat, and will have her about the best stern-wheeler out west.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Friday: Mr. David Rinehart, of Pittsburgh, is in the city. He advertises in to-day's issue his light-draught steamer Delaware for sale at a bargain.....Captain Charlie Dravo is also in this city, having arrived from Pittsburgh yesterday.....Captain Ike Whitaker has changed the sign of the R. C. Gray for St. Louis instead of Memphis. .....The Spray was sold at private sale, yesterday, by Captain Vincent Shinkle, for $8,500, to Captains Howard and Swope, of the T. J. Pickett. The Spray is to run in the Cincinnati and Maysville trade, instead of the Pickett, which steamer will probably be purchased by the Mason City Salt Company. In the meantime she will lie up.

—The St. Louis Democrat, rakes up the following: In 1814 lead was carried by steamer from St. Louis to New Orleans for four cents per 100 lbs. The rate on pound freights to Weston was 12½c, and hemp from the Missouri to St. Louis was $2,50 per tun. Weston was then the big town of the Missouri river. One of the crack Missouri river packets of that day was the Lewis F. Linn. Mortimer Kennott was captain, W. C. Jewett, clerk, and Robert B. Bailey, pilot. The Lewis F. Linn brought that year to a Whig Convention at St. Louis 360 adult male citizens, carried them back to their homes, and boarded them two davs at the St. Louis wharf, all for the sum of six dollars per head.

—An exchange says: The new steamer "Holsatia," of the Hamburg line, is described as one of the finest vessels of the kind ever seen in the port of New York; has a straight stem and round stern, and a flush deck running clear from stem to stern, affording the crew a fine opportunity to work the vessel. Her hull is constructed entirely of the best wrought iron, and is divided into eight water-tight compartments. Her dimensions are; 450 feet of keel, 45 beam, and 38 feet depth of hold, and she measures about 3,200 American register tuns. The main deck is made of heavy iron plates, covered with a wooden sheeting of 4-inch planks. She has two iron masts, which are brig rigged and provided with the latest patents and improvements.

—The following is from the Dubuque Herald, of Tuesday: John Robinson's circus company came down the river Sunday night with their boat, the Coosa, and stopped at Eagle Point to wood up. After taking aboard several cords, the price was asked, and $5 per cord demanded. This they refused to pay and commenced throwing the wood overboard, when their actions were opposed by two Germans, wood dealers, one of whom had a gun. This was the signal for an attack on the two men Several of the boat hands came ashore, took the gun from the owner, struck him over the head with it, and then threw it in the river. The injured man lies in a critical condition. A warrent was out for the arrest of the offenders, but it being dark, and before the documents could be served, the boat put off down the river.

THE ANTI-TORNADO RAILROAD BRIDGE

is eminently adapted for our large western rivers, with spans of 550 feet, 80 feet above low water. It will resist the strongest wind s hurricanes, and the highest floods; its cost is trifling will not affect it. I made the discovery on the 25th of June last. A model of it I long to exhibit, and give special allowance on its principle s to all parties who take an interest in bridges, and charge 25 cents.

WORLDLY WISE.

It was the boatman Ronsalee,
And he sailed through the mists so white;
And two li tle ladies sat at his knee,
With their two little heads so bright;
And o they sailed and sailed—all three—
On the golden coast o' the night.

Young Ronsalee had a handsome face,
And his great beard made him brown;
And the two little ladies in girlish grace
They kept their eyelids down
The one in her silken veil of lace,
And the one in her woolsey gown.

For one little lady lived in the wood,
Like a flower that hides from the day;
Her name was Jenny—they called her the good.
And the name o' the other was May,
And her palace walls looked on the flood,
Where they softly sailed away.

Long time the balan e even stood
With our Ronsalee that day;
But what was a little house in the wood
To a palace grand and gay?
So he gave his heart to Jenny, the good,
And his hand he gave to May.

—There are two Americans serving as second lieutenants in the army of the Grand Duke of Hesse Darmstadt. —It has leaked out that Bismarck a few days before taking his three months' leave of absence was suddenly taken so very ill that his physician thought he would die, and that King William was waked up in the dead of night and called to the bedside of his great Minister. Two hours afterward, however, the condition of the patient improved so rapidly that the physicians declared he was entirely out of danger.

—Count Platere, the ex-Foreign Minister of the King of Hanover, was arraigned for high treason before the Court at Berlin. The diplomatist kept out of the way, but in his absence he was tried, convicted and sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment and ten years subsequent surveillance from the the police. The Count will, in all probability, not honor Prussian soil with his presence for some time, as the police are looking for him.

—It would be an excellent thing if the directors of some of the passenger railways in the city would order a periodical cleaning out and re-upholstering of the cars. Some of the vehicles now running seem to be infested with nothing less than bed bugs, and we have heard loud complaints of this terrible nuisance. We are sure that there is not a street railway in the city, the directors of which would not promptly order a thorough renovation if they but knew of the existence of this evil.

—We are at last well represented officially in Germany. Mr. Bancroft, who is a scholar and a gentleman, is also a statesman, a faculty of which but few of our ministers abroad can boast. He speaks excellent German and is a great favorite with all classes of Germans, always excepting those extreme anti-Bismarckists, who hate Bancroft because he is Bismarck's friend. We sincerely hope that our government will not see fit to remove the great historian from his present office until at least as capable a man is found for his successor, for the United States have become too powerful, and we should hope too intelligent a nation, to be represented abroad by men whose only qualifications are those of a ward politician.

—There is danger, it is said, that the accident to Mr. Algernon Swinburne, an account of which we recently printed, may prove fatal, a result which all lovers of grand poetry will deprecate. By many the first place among the modern poets is unhesitatingly awarded to him, and there are but few who will not place him at least second only to the Laureate, and with this brilliant position, achieved in so short a time and while yet so young, if Providence permits him to live and use his commanding genius, there is nothing which we may not expect him to achieve. His latest work, "Sienna," is of even greater power than his former productions, and there was every reason to suppose that each new poem would surpass the preceding ones.

GOLD closed on Saturday in New York at 143¼@143¾.

THE Senate has responded to the sentiment of the country in rejecting the nominations of DAWSON, MCCLERNAND, PERRINE and JEFFRIES.

CONGRESS takes a recess to-day, to September 21st. A vast deal of business was disposed of on Saturday; among the bills passed were those for the protection of American citizens abroad, and to amend the bankrupt law.

THE ratification of the XIVth amendment by Georgia was followed, on Saturday, by the admission of her Representatives in the House. Her Senators not having reached Washington cannot be sworn in until the next session, but the reconstruction of the State is recognized as complete.

THE Danville American mentions that the Commission, appointed by the late Legislature to locate the new Lunatic Hospital, have selected the farm of Mr. W. W. PINNEO, near that town; that the conveyance was executed last week to the satisfaction of the Governor, and that the work will be commenced immediately.

WE print this morning an interesting letter from our editorial associate, now with the excursion party to the Rocky Mountains. The party were at the end of the track, at Mount Clayton, 710 miles west of Omaha, on Thursday last, but left on their return the same day, after witnessing the laying of one mile of track in three hours.

HON. DAVID L. SMITH explains elsewhere in to-day's paper that his name was used as a delegate to the Labor Reform Convention for this county, without his consent. This consists with what we have heretofore said, that the assemblage was in no proper sense a representative body, but manufactured only by a few scheming politicians to serve as the basis of a bargain with the Democrats.

READ WHAT the Georgia rebel Democracy said and did on Thursday last! One of them said the South rebelled for her rights and that war was wrongfully made upon her. Another one "pledged himself before GOD to fight to the last" against the new governments. A third (TOOMBS) declared all the Congressional legislation to be void, while a fourth poured out a torrent of disloyal malignity and blasphemy which will astonish and alarm the country. Of course, it is needless to add that the Convention ratified the New York nominations and platform. These rebels take up Democracy just as it was when it impelled them to shoulder arms in 1861. We whipped them once, but will have to do it again, if BLAIR and his new-found Copperhead friends can fire the southern heart to a fighting pitch. The spirit and sentiments of the Atlanta meeting look like the legitimate fruits of their incendiary and revolutionary teachings.

THE PRESIDENT'S CONCESSION.

It is stated that the President is about to issue an order reorganizing the Southern military departments, and withdrawing the troops from the States which have been turned over to their civil authorities respectively. It is also said that this order will originate in his desire to see a collision precipitated between the loyal governments of those States and their rebel populations, whose hearts have been fired by the incendiary instigations of the Democracy. But it is also said that the President proposes to recognize the new State officers-elect, until an early decision can be obtained from the Supreme Court against the constitutionality of the reconstruction laws under which they have been chosen.

There is no room for doubt that the President would gladly see the whole work of reconstruction overturned, but there are very good reasons, deduced from past experience, for believing that, although this desire may and will drive him to the extreme verge of positive malfeasance in his execution, or rather non-execution of those laws, yet he will do as he has done before—he will aim to forbear complicity in such overt acts as will make a case clearly justifying his own removal from office. This opinion is confirmed by the other reports, of the new military order to be issued, and of the recognition of the new governments His withdrawal of the troops will in itself commit him to a positive recognition of the Reconstruction policy. It will be his acceptance of its completion in those States. It is the Executive acknowledgment that the military responsibility of the Federal power, as specially defined and directed by the reconstruction system, is ended by the perfected operation of the system itself. The case admits of no other consistent explanation. Continuing, in the line of Executive duty, the same line of protest against the validity of these laws which is flagrant in his political speeches and his messages to Congress, the only thing he could logically and consistently do would be to withhold any interference in the situation; the troops would be undisturbed and the authority of the military commanders would remain, as it has been, unrestricted. Ignoring the new State Governments, he could have no shadow of a title to reorganize the departments and to withdraw the Federal forces. This, then, is his dilemma. Holding still to his political denunciations against reconstruction, he must leave the troops and the military control undisturbed—which would be plainly fatal to any rebel scheme of violence against the new Governments—or withdrawing the Federal control, with its armed force, he commits himself clearly and absolutely to a recognition of the reconstruction laws, and for the first time in a most conclusive manner. We are not surprised, therefore, by the statement that he accepts the logical consequence of his new military order, and agrees to extend some sort of official recognition to the new governments. He may, and no doubt will, where occasions offer, continue to fulminate, in his official and unofficial utterances, new denunciations against the policy of Congress; but he will find the difficulties increased in the way of his refusal to heed the demands of the new governments for Federal protection, or for its aid to suppress any insurrections that may occur. However much and bitterly Mr. JOHNSON may hereafter talk against the reconstruction policy, he has committed himself to its execution. Looking one way, he is tolerably certain to row another, for the residue of his term. Are we mistaken in supposing that the policy, the official acts of the Executive are now and will continue to be largely influenced by the sounder advice of his new Attorney General? Or, shall we attribute this surprising access of practical wisdom in the Executive counsels to the inherent force of that logic of events which, undisturbed, will work out every problem of State to its natural and consistent solution?

There is no danger that the Supreme Court will ever decide, with any formal and clear precision, that the Reconstruction acts are invalid. That tribunal dismissed the whole question last winter, as a political one and as not within their jurisdiction. Whence, the inference is still more obvious that Mr. JOHNSON's recognition of the new governments will be final, even with himself. His talk may be inflammatory and incendiary for a while, but his Executive acts will be carefully controlled within the law, and his administration may be concluded with the energetic repression of violence which his own language shall have done much to precipitate upon the Southern States. But, should he fail in this line of his clear Executive duty, he will have made a very strong case against himself—and he knows it.

THE President has ordered the Secretary of War to withdraw all the military from the Southern States which have representatives in Congress. Why does he make this distinction between States which are represented and States which are not? He maintained, in a late veto message, that they all stood on a common basis of right. Why does he not treat them all alike?

If the re-admission of most of the Southern States to representation is a reason why the military shall be withdrawn from their borders, why not apply the same measure to all the States represented in the two Houses? That would concentrate the military in the three States not yet re-organized, in the District of Columbia and the Territories. If the country should be fully organized into States, the army upon this plan would have to be banished to foreign parts. Has the President a sinister end to gain, by taking the military from the points where it is most needed?

THE delay in the publication of SEYMOUR's letter of acceptance makes it a question whether such a letter has yet been written. Strong hopes are entertained in many Democratic quarters that he will yet withdraw, and allow the Committee to put up some more popular and less objectionable man. Perhaps it is feared that the rebels would then insist upon advancing BLAIR to the head of the ticket.

THE OHIO Republicans have made nominations for Congress in ten of the nineteen districts of that State. Four of these (LAWRENCE, WILSON, BINGHAM and GARFIELD) are re-nominations. COOPER, in the XIIIth District, is also supported by the working men, and will beat MORGAN, his competitor from Cumberland Gap, by 500 to 800 majority. Stick a pin there. COOPER is no kid-glove sham, "with hands white as a woman's," (a la SEYMOUR,) but a workingman, and though himself an employer, says "come, boys," instead of "go, boys." The workingmen of his district find that the rights and duties of all classes are faithfully embodied in Republican principles, and their nominee will ably represent them. This is the more fortunate since COOPER is the only real, genuine workingman in the field for Congress west of the Alleghenies, and the certainty of his election ensures to his supporters a hearing on the floor of the XLIst Congress. E. H. MOORE, Esq., is the nominee in the XVth District, and will be elected. The 427 Copperhead majority of last year is bound to be beaten by the men of whose determination and energy the following statement is made:

"The Monroe county delegation, after riding eighteen miles in buggies to the river, and finding no steamboats running, on account of low water, immediately procured a skiff, and rowed the entire distance to Marietta, fifty-five miles; blistering their hands, but arriving just in time to take part in the proceedings of the Convention."

WE are informed by Hon. D. D. T. FARRENSWORTH, State Senator from Upshur county, West Virginia, that an iron mountain exists in the upper portion of that county, of greater extent and purity than any other known body of iron in the world, not excepting the famous iron mountain of Missouri; and that under this vast body of iron there is a vein of bituminous coal, measuring on the face where the Buchanan river cuts through, twenty-five feet in thickness. He declares this ore to be so pure that a blacksmith took a piece and forged a horseshoe from it.

This deposit is up the west branch of the Monongahela river, and can be reached from this city by a railway not exceeding one hundred and fifty miles in length. The Monongahela Valley Railroad, provided for by act of the last Legislature of Pennsylvania, is in the direct range. This line is estimated at ninety miles to Morgantown. A bill was passed, at the same time, by the West Virginia Legislature, to extend this projected line on to this mineral district, a farther distance of sixty miles.

IT WILL be remembered that when President JOHNSON was "swinging around the circle," a crowd gathered to see him as he passed Johnstown; that the platform at the railway station broke down under the weight of people; that lives were lost; and that suits were brought to recover damages. The Supreme Court has decided, Judge SHARSWOOD delivering the opinion, that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is not liable. The Court hold that the platform of a railway company is not a public highway; that it is a structure erected expressly to accommodate passengers arriving and departing; and that all other persons entering upon it are trespassers, who can be ordered off or removed by whatever force may be necessary. As the individuals injured at Johnstown were not passengers, but were drawn to the station, and upon the platform, to gratify curiosity, they were where they had no legal right to be, and hence the Company cannot be made answerable for any injury happening to them when there.

A SOMEWHAT notorious politician whose name is on the Miscegenation ticket in this county has, in the Leader of yesterday, the following first-rate notice:

The candidate for State Senator, A. W. Foster, is a gentleman of fine abilities and erratic politics. If we mistake not, he has figured, in his time, as a Whig, Abolitionist, Prohibitionist, Know Nothing, Anti-secret Society man, and Republican. At the present time he is about as unterrified and radical a Democrat as there is in the county.

And the Leader might have added that since his enrollment among those whom BLAIR stigmatized as hell-hounds three years ago, this everything-by-turns-and-nothing-long politician vies with the most malignant Copperheads, in his clamor for the restoration of rebel rights. It is a subject for curious speculation to know what his next political somersault will be, in that hungry quest for an office which never has been and never will be satisfied.

UNDER THE new XIVth Article of the Constitution, States which do not allow colored suffrage will have their representation diminished accordingly. The census of 1870 must, however, be first taken, when the new provision will operate. Pennsylvania, having about 60,000 colored residents who are now represented, although not voting, may lose a member, if the deduction of this number shall bring the fraction below one half the ratio, which is likely to be near 150,000. Maryland, Tennessee and Missouri will certainly lose one or more members each, unless the suffrage be given to their large colored population.

THE Zanesville Germania, the German Democratic paper from which we copied a strong article against the New York platform and ticket, a few days since, followed up its denunciations with a still stronger article in its succeeding issue. The German Democrats of Ohio are abandoning that party by thousands, it is said, and enrolling themselves among the friends of GRANT and Peace. In the Empire State of New York, the reaction is equally manifest, and the assurances are gratifying that, as a body, the German voters in the city and State will hereafter keep step to the music of the Union.

THE annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Teachers' Association will be held at Allentown, Lehigh County, on the fourth, fifth and sixth days of August. The State Superintendents will meet at Harrisburg on the Thursday, Friday and Saturday preceding.

THE Atlanta (GA.) New Era says: "The BLAIR letter will secure to GRANT a half million more votes than we expected to get, prior to SEYMOUR and BLAIR'S nomination. The people want peace, and not war. 'Let us have peace.'"

MR. CHARLES GIBBONS has been made the Republican nominee in Philadelphia for District Attorney, since the withdrawal of Mr. MANN and Mr. HAZLEHURST.

Mr. GIBBON is a native of Delaware, but has spent all his active life in Philadelphia. He is a lawyer of high reputation and a citizen without reproach. He served three years in the State Senate, and was afterwards Chairman of the State Committee. He did not seek the present nomination, but he was sought for the place.

A BILL passed the Legislature of West Virginia on Friday of last week, consolidating the Panhandle Railroad Company of Pennsylvania, with the Holliday's Cove Railroad Company of West Virginia, and the Steubenville and Indiana Railroad Company of Ohio, the consolidated Company being known as the Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railway Company. This enactment enables the line to be operated under one charter instead of three, as heretofore.

TOOMBS failed to accomplish his old threat that he would call the muster-roll of his slaves on Bunker Hill. But the Copperhead leaders, who bound the Northern Democracy at New York, and have laid them helpless at the feet of Southern rebels once more, are doing the job for TOOMBS better than he could do it himself. He will call the roll of his slaves at our October polls. The shrinkage will astonish him and his Northern co-plotters alike.

IT is said that when BLAIR stumped Indiana in 1860 against DOUGLAS, he branded the Democracy as a "vile, miserable party," and abused DOUGLAS and HENDRICKS so fiercely that VOORHEES called him (BLAIR) the "prince of blackguards." VOORHEES having now been renominated for Congress, can ask BLAIR to come and harangue "the vile, miserable party" once more, from a Democratic stump.

THE farewell order of Gen. BLAIR, the present Democratic candidate, to his army corps previous to its being mustered out, is dated Louisville, July 11th, '65, and recommends the confiscation of Southern lands, to provide homesteads for the Union soldiers. He now believes that Southern rebels should again butcher the boys in blue, if they attempt to maintain the Federal authority.

THERE is vast undeveloped mineral wealth in West Virginia. Perhaps no other portion of the globe offers such facilities for the production of iron. Railway communications are now lacking, but in the course of events these will ultimately, and at no distant period, be supplied. Then this latent opulence will be brought out and utilized.

THE Libby prison has been suggested as a suitable place for a Democratic headquarters during the Presidential canvass.

IS IT TRUE that Democratic meetings, to ratify SEYMOUR and BLAIR, are to be held at Andersonville and Salisbury?

CARL SCHURZ will speak in Pennsylvania, on the political issues of the canvass, in the latter part of August.

The Georgia Rebels in Council—Pledges to Fight to the Last—Violent and Revolutionary Threats—Blair and Revolution the Watchword.

The rebel Democracy of Georgia held a State Convention and a mass meeting at Atlanta on the 23d, from a report of which in the Cincinnati Gazette we extract as follows:

The rebel Democracy have, for one day at least, re-taken Atlanta. Their delegate State Convention assembled this morning, and also their great mass meeting, the latter of which was a highly successful affair. The delegate Convention met at 10 A. M. A committee was appointed to select permanent officers. While they were out, Col. J. B. Weems was called on for a speech, who told them that the result of their success in the contest before them would be to expel from Georgia the entire brood of Northern vagrants, Northern rapscallions and Northern paupers, and the Southern miscreants now infesting her. This sentiment was received with the usual complement of rebel yell. The Committee on Business introduced a series of resolutions. The first ratifies the nomination of Seymour and Blair, the second approves the platform of the New York Convention, because that platform recognizes the old Democratic doctrine of the equality of the States. A. J. Ramsey, of Columbus, made a violent rebel speech, declaring that in the late war the South did nothing but maintain their rights; that the Government wrongfully made war upon her, and that the very day the war commenced the Constitution was overthrown. Mr. Clarke made a speech pledging himself, before God, to fight to the last the new governments that had been set up in the South, and then the Convention adjourned sine die. The mass meeting was assembled under a great artificial grove on the Public Square. Five thousand people were present. Bob Toombs, Howell Cobb, and B. H. Hill, the three great leaders of the rebel Democracy, all made speeches. Toombs took the broad ground that all the action of the Government in reference to the South for the last three years was void and of no effect. Cobb followed in the same strain, and Hill poured forth a torrent of disloyal malignity and blasphemy which will astonish and alarm the country. The whole spirit of the speeches was violent and revolutionary in the extreme, Toombs alone making any pretense of decency or moderation.

THE old rebel presses of the South appear to be endowed with new life by the action of the New York Convention. The Vicksburg Herald says:

Here is the easy solution of all these troubles. We claim that we have these rights secured to us by every law. Then let us execute them, and if they are prevented, let the onus rest upon those who interfere. In other words, we owe it to ourselves to demand our rights and endeavor to exercise them, otherwise they will never be forced upon us. It is the duty of the people of Mississippi to seat themselves square upon their r[illegible]s at once.

ENTHUSIASTIC COPPERHEAD—"I'm taking up a subscription to fire a salute over the nomination of Seymour. Give us a dollar?" Chase Democrat—"Want to shoot, do you?" Copperhead—"Of course we do." Chase Democrat—"Sooot! Why, the d—d, mad shooting is just what Seymour is most afraid of. You will suit him better, if you are his friends, if you butcher a nigger and burn a hospital or two!"

POLITICAL ITEMS.

PENNSYLVANIA was invaded by the rebels July 1, 1863; New York, July 3, 1868.

SEYMOUR, it seems, is hunting up certificates of loyalty, during the war! Where's the razor-strop man?

AN artist advertises portraits of Mr. Blair "in fifteen different positions." After the election he can give sixteen—one of them "face down."

DOOLITTLE says that Seymour fought the battle of Gettysburg. The Wilmington (Del.) Commercial says that is a mistake—he only aided the rebels to fight it.

COUNTRY papers say that the Hon. H. G. Stebbins, formerly M. C. from New-York, and Judge Pierrepont, one of the Sachems of Tammany, will soon declare for Grant.

WHISKY is recommended by Frank Blair as a protection against musketoes. "Taken internally in sufficient quantities, it will cause perfect insensibility to their stings."

IN 1862, when Seymour was elected Govenor of New York, Stonewall Jackson, riding by rail from Fredericksburg to Richmond, called upon the people at every station for cheers for the triumph of their friends in New York.

IN Virginia the Democrats have one Lafayette Washington, a negro and Virginian, stumping the State against the new Constitution. He is regarded with great favor by the Democracy, and is fully recognized as a "man and brother."

THE Hartford Times, in answering an inquiry of the Tribune, says that the Democratic soldiers and sailors fought, during the war, on the platform of "the Constitution and Union." This will be news indeed to N. B. Forrest and Admiral Raphael Semmes.

"THE war is over," said a Seymourite the other day to a one-armed soldier who was turning a hand-organ in Union Park. "It may be over to you," said the brave Boy in Blue, lifting up his stump, "but it is'nt over by a good deal to me." The Copperhead vamosed.

"WHAT think you of the Democratic nominations?" inquired a Copperhead official of a one-legged Union soldier, the other day. "I regard them as an outrageous insult to the American people," was the soldier's reply, "and if any man asks me to vote for them, I shall be tempted to break my crutch over his head."

THE Zanesville Courier says: W. A. E. Rhodes, one of the most prominent Democrats in Springfield township, is out strongly for Grant and Colfax. Mr. Rhodes has heretofore always been a Democrat, but he cannot endorse such revolutionary measures as Blair's letter demands, and pledges the Democracy to carry out.

FROM our Southern exchanges we learn that the campaign there is to be conducted upon the Blair platform exclusively Seymour, notwithstanding his fine record on the anti-draft question, will be eclipsed by his bolder and more revolutionary associate upon the ticket. "Let us have war," says Blair; "we will," says the South; "we will," says the Democracy, "Another war will wipe out the national debt and the Republican party. Therefore, let us have war."

DEMOCRATS, read the following from the Macon, Georgia, Telegraph, of July 17:—"Hundreds of colored voters were in the Seymour and Blair procession, in Macon, last Wednesday night, and thousands more cheered it on with right good will. The talk about 'a conflict of races' is all stuff, The Democrats in this canvass are going to illustrate not a conflict, but a co-operation of races. We mean that somewhere between four-fifths and nine-tenths of the Georgia negroes shall vote with us, and by our side, in this election; and we mean in this to do not the slightest violence to the negro's inclination!"

A REBEL print at Jackson; Miss., evidently don't like Grant. It thus relieves its mind: "Obscure in birth—groveling and sensual in feelings—addicted to gluttony and to the immoderate use of whisky—of very limited education—accustomed to low and vulgar associations—denuded of all qualifications for high office. Has he any real greatness? Assuredly not. Neither statesman, orator, writer, or having attained fame in science or literature. Strip off the shoulder straps and he sinks down with the nameless millions of his race. into the depths of obscurity. A clever fellow in lager beer saloons and tenpin alleys. One may look in vain, through the whole history of the war, for any evidence of science or skill on the part of Gen. Grant. His campaigns were blunders. His victories were accidental. His greatness is a myth. It is impossible to make a silk purse out of a sow's ear, so it is to make a greatman out of Grant."

The Southern Supporters of Seymour and Blair.

The Mobile Tribune, one of the organs of the Democracy in the "Queen City of the Gulf," comes out in great force for Seymour and Blair. The Queen City had a grand ratification meeting a few nights ago, and the Tribune gave the gathering a "first rate notice" in advance. Here is a specimen brick from the editorial fabric:

"Friends—fellow-citizens of Mobile—comrades of the Queen City of the Gulf! let us make one more effort in behalf of our rights and our liberties. If we are successful in the approaching contest, we shall regain all that we lost in the 'Lost Cause.' We shall be freemen once more. We shall have a country. We shall be able to reverse the iron rule which has been imposed upon us, and turning that iron into brands of fire, hurl them back on the heads of the flagitious wretches who have inflicted so many foul and flagrant wrongs on our bleeding country. Once more to the breach then,—yet once more! and when the cloud shall have cleared away from the flaming field, our flag—the grand old Democratic flag—will be seen in all its glory, and streaming like the thunder cloud against the wind. Let us then rally once more around the dear old flag, which we have followed so often to honor and victory, Let us plant our standard in the midst of the field, and let us once more raise the war cry—'he who doubts is damned; he who dallies is a dastard.'"

SHAFTS are being sunk on the Osmund Mountain in Sweden for the working of certain petroleum springs which have been discovered. According to the report of Capt. Lundberg, who is at the head of the undertaking, a depth has been reached of two hundred and fifty-three feet. The materials dug out are impregnated with that species of petroleum known in America as surface oil, and which is of a deeper color than that generally used in Europe. A determination has been come to that the boring shall be carried to six hundred feet, where the real petroleum is presumed to be in great abundance.

A WASHINGTON telegram says: "It is said that Mr. Dawson was nominated to the Russian Mission by request of Henry D. Foster, who is the Democratic candidate against the Hon. John Covode for Congress, and who desires to conciliate his former friends."

THE Meadville Republican says: Everything connected with the oil business looks cheerful and oil will probably command a good price from this time forward. Many new oil wells are now being drilled, and business in the oil regions is reviving.

PITTSBURGH GAZETTE FOR THE CAMPAIGN.

The Presidential fight having now fairly begun, and the newspaper press being one of the best weapons for effectual warfare, we propose to furnish the GAZETTE for the Campaign at the very low rate of 40 cents per copy for the WEEKLY, and $2 for the DAILY, from now to the close of the Presidential election.

The GAZETTE has been an earnest, consistent and efficient advocate of Republican principles, from the start, and it is therefore all the better qualified to present Republican arguments now, in this decisive contest, which must settle conclusively whether the nation shall go back to the old domination of slavery and the slave power, or go forward to the full fruition of the results accomplished by the ar.

The old Southern politicians, galvanized into new life by the Democratic nominations at New York, unhesitatingly avow that all the Confederacy fought for is to be gained in the election of Seymour and Blair, and that secession is not dead, but is to be fully and finally triumphant in the success of the Democratic candidates.

It has also been plainly given out, by the Democratic candidate for Vice President, that the Democracy, if successful this fall, intend to overturn by force the State Governments established by the people of the South, thus giving notice in advance of another war, and the Democratic Convention, in nominating him for the Vice Presideney, gave the emphatic endorsement of the party to the incendiary and revolutionary threat.

Shall what the Confederacy fought for, and failed to attain, be now attained through Seymour's success? Shall secession, overturned and defeated in the field, be allowed to triumph at the polls? Shall the Democracy, under the lead of Seymour and Blair, be permitted to inaugurate a new Rebellion?

If not, it behooves the Republicans of Western Pennsylvania to labor with an earnestness and zeal befitting the perils of the hour: and one of the surest ways of meeting the enemy successfully is to circulate Republican papers freely, and put them into the hands of all who are willing to read them.

To this end we offer the GAZETTE at a very low rate for the campaign. There are very few men who cannot afford to give forty cents to aid the good cause by circulating a good Republican paper.

Try it, friends, try it for your neighbors. There is scarcely a neighborhood in the country in which from ten to twenty more weekly papers cannot be distributed to advantage; and a few thousand weekly papers read carefully from now to the election will do more good than tens of thousands of Congressional speeches.

IS YOUR DISEASE RHEUMATISM?

Many persons, supposing they are suffering from this disease, have applied Liniments, Plasters and other Rheumatic Remedies without obtaining any relief, when in fact the cause of pain is a derangement of the Kidneys. These are small organs, but very important, and any obstruction or interference with its functions are indicated by pain in the back and loins, languor and weakness, difficulty in avoiding and unnatural color of the urine. A Diuretic should be once be resorted to.

DR. SARGENT'S

Diuretic or Backache Pills

Can be relied on for these purposes; they have a direct influence on the cells of the kidneys, assists nature in relieving them of any foreign particles, and stimulates them to a healthy and vigorous action.

Dr. Sargent's Backache Pills

DISASTER FOLLOWS NEGLECT.

Whoever feels the premonitory symptoms of sickness should remember that it adds the agony of self-reproach to the pangs of disease to remember that they might have been prevented.

Languor, debility and low spirits are often the precursors of terrible disorders. They indicate an immediate necessity for a tonic, and the best tonic in existence is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Sick headache, pain in the right side, and yellowness of the whites of the eyes are unmistakable symptoms of an approaching bilious attack, and, in order to ward it off, common prudence dictates the propriety of resorting to the most efficacious of all anti-bilious preparations—HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Flatulence, nausea, oppression after eating, irregularity of the bowels, and a distate for exertion, denote a disordered state of the stomach, which, if neglected, is sure to culminate in chronic dyspepsia, but which may be relieved in a few hours, and entirely cured in a few days, by taking half a wineglass-full of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS at regular intervals. All physicians admit that innumerable lives are sacrificed every year that might have been saved by precautionary medication. Remember that one of the principal uses of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS is to put the system in a condition to REPEL DISEASE. It recruits and restores the waning strength, and is, therefore, especially needed during the season when intense heat makes such heavy and constant drafts on the vital principle.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone," on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten it on my lungs. I knew that the peculair mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to the discharge, which I believed was a salutary provision of nature to get rid of some morbid condition of the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully. I—— C——.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

700 MILES

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

Are now finished and in operation. 160 miles of track have been laid this spring, and the work along the whole line between the Atlantic and Pacific States is being pushed forward more rapidly than ever before. More than twenty thousand men are employed, and it is not impossible that the entire track, from Omaha to Sacramento, will be finished in 1869 instead of 1870. The means provided are ample, and all that energy, men and money can do to secure the completion of this

GREAT NATIONAL WORK,

At the earliest possible day, will be done.

The UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY receive:

I.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right of way, and all necessary timber and other materials found along the line of its operations.

II.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, taken in alternate sections on each side of its road. This is an absolute donation, and will be a source of large revenue in the future.

III.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of United States Thirty-year Bonds, amounting to from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, according to the difficulties to be surmounted on the various sections to be built. The Government takes a second mortgage as security, and it is expected that not only the interest, but the principal amount may be paid in services rendered by the Company in transporting troops, mails, &c. The interest is now much more than paid in this way, besides securing a great saving in time and money to the Government.

IV.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to aid in building the road, to the same amount as the U. S. Bonds, issued for the same purpose, and no more. The Government permits the Trustees for the First Mortgage Bondholders to deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the road is completed, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class Railroad, laid with a heavy T rail, and completely supplied with depots, stations, turnouts, carshops, locomotives, cars, &c.

V.—A CAPITAL STOCK SUBSCRIPTION from the stockholders, of which OVER EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS have been paid in upon the work already done, and which will be increased as the wants of the Company require.

VI.—NET CASH EARNINGS on its Way Business, that already amount to MORE THAN THE INTEREST on the First Mortgage Bonds. These earnings are no indication of the vast through traffic that must follow the opening of the line to the Pacific, but they certainly prove that upon such a property, costing nearly three times their amount, ARE SECURE BEYOND ANY CONTINGENCY.

The Union Pacific Bonds run thirty years, are for $1,000 each, and have coupons attached. They bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July, at the Company's Office, in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The Principal is payable in gold at maturity. The price is 102, and at the present rate of gold, they pay a liberal income on their cost.

The Company believe that these Bonds, at the present rate, are the cheapest in the market, and reserve the right to advance the price at any time.

Subscriptions will be received in Pittsburgh by

JAMES T. BRADY & Co., corner of Wood and Fourth Streets;
HART, CAUGHEY & Co., corner of Wood and Third Streets;
S. McCLEAN & CO., 75 Fourth Street;
PH. R. MERTZ, corner 5th and Wood Sts.;
ROBINSON BROS., 78 Fourth street;

AND IN NEW YORK

At the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau Street, and by

JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, No. 59 Wall Street, and by the Company's advertised agents throughout the United States.

Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the Bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. Parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A PAMPHLET AND MAP FOR 1868 has just been published by the Company, giving fuller information than is possible in an advertisement, respecting the Progress of the Work, the Resources of the Country traversed by the Road, the Means for Construction, and the Value of the Bonds, which will be sent free on application at the Company's offices, or to any of the advertised agents.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, July 25, 1868.

The bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to issue new bonds to take up the maturing compounds, is interpreted as an expension of currency, and, in consequence, bonds advanced from ¼ to ⅜ per cent. The investment demand is still confined to small lots, and capitalists hold back to await a decline to about 106 to 107 per cent., at which price bonds are likely to be bought before the next interest falls due. Next Wednesday will be the last day on which Seven Thirties can be exchanged yet, and any bonds presented thereafter will be paid par, and the interest thus losing the present premium of about 109¼ per cent.

Stocks are firmer, in sympathy with the increase of currency and a continued easy money market. The Western shares are firm, and some of the through routes in either direction have advanced in the hope of making good dividends through the heavy shipments of grain. Express shares have improved. Money easy here, and business has to be reported dull.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, July 25, 1868.

CRUDE—There was not a single operation in crude to-day at least there were none reported, and while the market seemed to be very quiet, prices have undergone no quotable change. Spot oil is still held at 14, though there were no buyers at that figure: we are cognizant of an offer of 14 for August which was refused, 14½ to 15 being asked. The market has been comparatively quiet all week though there was a fair volume of business in the aggregate, the reported sales reaching over twenty-three thousand barrels against fifty-six thousand three hundred bbls last week. With the exception of what is held in tank by speculators, the supply in this market is pretty well reduced, though since railroad communication has been established it is not necessary, as in former years, for refiners to carry big stocks. Then it was necessary to provide against low water; now they can buy as they require it, which is a very important and desirable acquisation to the trade. Of course, there are times, particularly, when there is a probability of an advance, that refiners buy a tw or three months supply, with a view taking advantage of the makret. Oil City advices report the market quiet at $5 on creek, and $5,40 to $5.50 at that place, and no buyers.

REFINED—Themarket for bonded oil was also exceedingly quiet to-day, but a single sale reported, though there was, nevertheless, a pretty firm feeling reported, and prices were maintained. Spot oil was quoted at 33¾c; July, 34c, and "lines" for future months, 34¾c. The shipments east during the week aggregated 19,513 bbls; since January 1st, 328,-731 bbls. against 329,048 same time last year. From the above, it will be seen that the shipments continue large, being very nearly up to those of the same time last year, and if they keep up to the ratio of the past two or three months, the shipments for 1868 will largely exceed those of 1867. The exports to foreign countries are much larger than during the same time last year, and there seems to be no doubt but what Europe will want a much larger supply in 1868 than she did in 1867; and it is this, more than anything else, that sustains the market in the face of the reported increased production.

BENZOLE—There is a continued fair demand for this article, though prices are unchanged; sale of 500 bbls for August at 19c, and 500 for September at 19½c.

ARRIVALS—The arrivals of oil reported to-day were as follows:

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, July, 25, 1868.

The general markets have been a little more active duriing the week which has just closed, and some commodities, in consequence of a temporary scarcity, have temporarily advanced. Butter, for instance, has advanced considerably; this is not that there is an increased demand, but in consequence of the extremely hot weather, which has retarded shipments. The Flour and Grain trade is very unsettled, and, of course, while it remains so, the volume of business will be light. Millers do not seem disposed to buy Wheat very freely, while there is a probability of a still further decline, and the same is true of both dealers and consumers of Flour. Provisions firm and in fair local demand but unchanged, and the same remarks will apply to Groceries. Hay is considerably firmer and higher, under the influence of reports of a short crop.

BUTTER—The demand is good, and the market firm though prices are unchanged; we can report sales of prime fresh packed at 28 though some dealers think they could realize 30 cents if they only had it.

EGGS—The supply keeps fully up to the demand and the market is steady at 21 to 22c.

CHEESE—Is unchanged at 13 to 14 for Western Reserve and Hamburg; 15 to 16 for Ohio Factory, and 18 to 20 for Sweitzer.

HAY—Is scarce and firm with sales of new from country wagons at $25 to $30. Prime (old) baled is selling at $25 to $28.

GRAIN—The Wheat market is very irregular and unsatisfactory, and is likely to remain so until the result of the harvest has been positively ascertained; no one, we believe, predicts any advance; some think it possible present prices may be sustained, while others again contend that it must go still lower. Southern Wheat can no longer be brought to this market as it would cost more than our millers are willing to pay, and they can buy for less money, nearer home. We heard of a small sale of new Red at $2,10; though the great proportion of the sales during the week were at $2,20 to $2,25. Corn is firm but not quotably higher; sales of 1 car mixed at $1,05; prime Yellow is held firmly at $1,10. Oats firm and in limited supply; sales on track and in elevator at 79 to 80. Rye is dull and nominal at $1,40 to $1,45. It is too early as yet to say much about new Barley; we believe, however, that there will be an average yield, and it is probable that prices will rule lower than last year.

GREEN APPLES—Are in good supply, and dull but unchanged, at $4 to $5 per bbl as to quality.

MILL FEED—Is steady with regular jobbing sales in store, at $1,90 to $2 for middlings and $1,15 to $1,20 for bran.

ASHES—Sales common Soda Ash at 4½; Refined do 5c. Pearl Ash is still quoted at 10c.

PIG LEAD—Sales of 250 pigs at 10½c.

SEEDS—There was a sale of a car load of Flaxseed the other day at $2,50, but it would not bring much, if anything, over $2 now. Nothing doing in Clover or Timothy Seeds.

LARD OIL—Is still quoted at $1,15 for No. 2, and $1,40 for No. 1.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is in steady demand at 13½ to 13¾c for Shoulders; 16c to 16¼ for Ribbed, and 18 to 18¾ for Clear Sides, and 20¾ to 21c for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard, 18¼ to 18¾c. Dried Beef, 21 to 21¾c. Mess Pork, $28,50 to $29.

SALT—Is dull and nominally unchanged at $1,75 to $1,80 to the trade, and $2 for small lots in store.

FLOUR—The Flour market is dull but steady, and prices seem to be well sustained. The demand is very light, being restricted entirely to the immediate wants of the home trade, and it is almost an impossibility to sell a round lot at anything near quotations. We continue to quote at $10 to $10,50 for good to choice Spring, and $11 for choice Minnesota; $10,75 to $11 for Winter Wheat, and $13 to $14 for fancy St. Louis brands. Rye Flour, $8,50 to $8,75.

Cincinnati Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, July 25.—Flour scarce and higher, with family at $10a10,25. Wheat firm and in demand, with red at $2,05a2,10 for No 2 and 1 old winter; new wheat sold at $2,05; the stock is light owing to the demand from local millers. Corn firm; receipts, 9,000 bush; 88a89c, in ear. Oats are very scarce, and retailing at 85c, but this price could not be sustained under liberal receipts. Rye unchanged and firm at $1,55. Cotton dull and nominal at 30c for middlings. Mess Pork held firmly at $28,50. Bulk Meats in better demand, with sales of 15,000 pounds at 11¼c for shoulders, and 12¾c for sides. Bacon firmer at the close at 12¾c for shoulders; 16½a16¾c for clear ribs and clear sides. Lard held at 18c, and with some demand at 17¾c. Butter scarce and firm at 27a34c. Eggs at 17½a18c. Groceries unchanged and quiet. Clover Seed advanced to $13, but little was to be had at this rate. Hay unchanged at $14a16. Linseed oil at $1,06. Gold firm at 142¾, buying; the money market is easy and active. Whisky in demand since yesterday, at which time the new tax law went into operation; dealers had all been out of stock, and the sales reached 4,600 bbls at 40a45c, in bond; closing strong at the latter rate; free at $1,05.

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—The market for cotton goods inactive yet steady, at 17½c for standard brown sheetings of popular brands, 14a14½ for best makes dark prints, 9¼ for printing cloths, 20 for new styles of delaines, 28 for New York muslins, 25 for Wamsutta, 22½ for Tuscawara, 30 for Amoskeag Denims, 30 for Amoskeag A Ticks, 25 for B and 20 for D brands, 14 for Red Cross Wejans, 95 for Hadley Spool Thread, and 50 for Holyoke.

St. Louis Cattle Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, July 25.—Live stock cattle in good demand at $3,25a7 gross. Sheep $1a5 per head. Lambs $1,50a4.

THE EDITORIAL EXCURSION.

Chicago—Western Railways—To Omaha—Iowa—Prairie Scenery—A Theory Hinted At—Rapid Growth of the Settlements—Timber, Soil and Crops—Grain Speculators—Council Bluffs and Omaha—The Pros and Cons of Emigration—Things Worth Considering.

(Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.)

CASEMENT HOUSE, OMAHA, NEBRASKA, July 20th, 1868.

DEAR GAZETTE:—The Editorial Excursion Party to the Rocky Mountains arrived here on Saturday afternoon, having had a delightful time in Chicago, which city they left on Friday morning. The stay in the Garden City was principally devoted to sight-seeing. With its population of three hundred thousand, Chicago presents to the visitor rare attractions, and its people, being principally made up of shrewd, sharp, dollar-loving citizens, are individually anxious to impress the stranger with the magnitude and importance of their town. The city is by no means the great over-grown village some persons imagine it to be, and while there yet remain many evidences of the early shallow character of its business, still the most casual observer must remark that it is solidifying, settling down on a permanent basis, gaining strength and becoming in reality the great municipality it assumed to be during the mushroom growth into importance. Its business approaches nearer the stand of stability than heretofore. The gambling principle of "short selling" has almost died out, and a better order of things succeeded. Fortunes are made today by honest counting-room labor and shrewd and well directed exertions, rather than by the uncertain shifting of the wheel of fortune in the dubious out-turning of the mercantile dice-box. Evidently a better day is dawning for Chicago, and it is rapidly approaching a position based on no superficial or unwarranted claims, as one of the first class cities of America. There is life and bustle in its trade, and possessing advantages of location, municipal and individual enterprise, and having a grand start for supremacy, it cannot well be held back, unless Omaha, Cheyenne or some yet unchristened city strips it of its laurels and bears away the title to which Chicago now is rightly entitled as the Queen City of the West.

PRAIRIES.

The journey from Chicago to Omaha, Nebraska, is certainly a pleasant and desirable one, especially if the traveler takes the Chicago and North Western Railroad. This route is supplied with magnificent rolling stock, and we believe, the first class cars used for the transportation of passengers, are vastly superior to those on any other line in the country. As a general thing it will hold good that the Western roads look more carefully after the comfort and convenience of passengers than any of the New England or Middle State lines. Why such should be the case is a difficult matter to determine, but it is sufficient to say that such is the case. The scenery between Chicago and Omaha is neither grand nor tame. It is strikingly odd to the Eastern traveler and nothing more. The ocean of rolling praries which extend on either side of the track for hundreds of miles together, will please the fancy and fill the soul with larger ideas than it has been accustomed to entertain. The extent of these vast green fields which greet the eye from Indiana to Nebraska, is awful to contemplate, and to think that every acre may one day be made subject to the despotism of the plow or converted into bustling towns and cities, is to award our country a destiny reserved for no other in the world. If we were selecting a site for gathering together at final judgment the souls clothed in the body of those who will appear for reward or condemnation in God's eternal day, the prairies would command our attention, for they could afford elbow room to all, and, aside from being soiled with Chicago, would prove as attractive as any green place on the earth, Ireland not excepted. If final judgment takes place in this world, according to the prevailing belief, might it not be probable that the boundless plains of the west have been reserved for that purpose by the God who made them?

At various points along the railway between Chicago and Omaha the prairies are under cultivation and we are told are very rich in agricultural yields. New towns and villages are springing up at available points, and many emigrants are settling on the specially inducing rolling lands of Iowa. To serve as an instance of the rapid growth of towns out this way, it might be mentioned that the thriving borough of New Jefferson, Iowa, which was laid out just one year ago, now contains more than three hundred stores and houses and a population of fifteen hundred souls. So towns spring up and so will the West be settled.

The Boyer Valley which extends along the Boyer river in Iowa, is one of the most beautiful and fertile which ever greeted the eyes of man. The soil is rich and productive and is admirably drained and washed by the swift little Boyer river. The other lands are not developed largely but when they are, they are unusually fertile; rivalling the lands of Westmoreland and Lancaster counties in our own State. The day cannot be far distant, in view of the great tide of emigration which has set in from eastern points as well as Europe, in this direction, when a great part of the spare lands of the stretch of country between Chicago and Omaha will be peopled, and millions on millions of wealth be added to our country from the productions of the now grass growing and neglected prairies.

In view of the great scarcity of timber in the west, the idea of planting a portion of the prairies with trees should be followed out to some practical end. It would pay capitalists to embark in the enterprise, as the outlay would not be great while the returns, which would probably be reaped by future generations, would be enormous. But private capital would not prove so effective in the scheme as a Government outlay in this direction. A Woodman's bureau should be established at once, and the experiment of supplying the great west with timber entered upon. This is demanded by the rapidly filling up towns, and as an act of simple justice to the honest yeomanry of our land the Government should take steps in this direction.

THE CROPS.

The crops of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Nebraska and Kansas never promised better. The season has been decidedly good for bountiful harvests and when these States pour into the trade marts of the country their vast wealth of agricultural products, good times may be anticipated throughout the entire land. The great trouble, however, is that sharp and unscrupulous dealers and speculators obtain possession of the bulk of grain moved to the markets, and by sheer extortion exact artificial prices from the consumer, realizing immense profits and in a measure robbing the masses of advantages they were designed to enjoy by the God who vouchsafes bountiful harvests.

These grain robbers are thoroughly organized in all the new States, and having ample capital at their disposal can, with impunity, ruin the market and build it up at their pleasure. Chicago, from its great facilities for the storage of grain, necessarily becomes the head centre for the nefarious gamesters, and while it receives a full share of the just indignation heaped upon the wily speculators, still the ring extends into all points of the west. The great spirits may reign and hold court in the Garden City, but the lesser lights operate successfully in the grain districts, and bamboozle the producers as much as they intend defrauding the consumers, by illegal combinations. Sometimes they are deceived in their calculations and fail, but such occasions, unfortunately, are too rare. Fruit promises measureably well in the west, but there have been seasons when the yield was much larger. However, the people can thank God that the cereals have never been known to yield so heavily, and a decline in prices must inevitably follow the moving of the grain into the market.

The Missouri Valley, in Iowa, which extends for miles back from the rivers is as rich a tract of land as can be found on the Continent. It is guarded for many miles by the Council Bluffs—sugar loaf hills of sand which rise abruptly on the south side presenting a strange and barren appearance. To the north, as far as the eye can reach, the valley extends, forming an agricultural landscape of richness and beauty. It is planted with corn, wheat and oats. The sides of Council Bluff hills would make magnificent vineyards, and we venture the prediction that ere many years roll away they will be applied to that purpose. No where else in America do grapes thrive better than in that section and the eastern parts of Nebraska, and for a lucrative business we know of no more brilliant opening than that of establishing a vineyard in this region for the manufacture of wine.

COUNCIL BLUFFS.

Our party have seen little of Council Bluffs, Iowa. It is snugly ensconsed at the base of a range of the bluffs, a few miles back from the Missouri river, fronting it, and forming the terminus of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad. It is a very neat and prettly little city, much resembling some of the handsome towns which dot the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad. It contains about seven thousand population and has doubtless a brilliant destiny ahead, although its location is unfavorable to rapid development. It never can outstrip Omaha nor rival it in commercial importance, but it may preserve the same relation to that city as Allegheny does to Pittsburgh. There is much jealousy existing between the two cities, a fact patent to the excursionists, inasmuch as the good people of Omaha were anxious to keep them from seeing or learning much about their rival city. This feeling is natural, however, as the two cities are directly in opposition to each other, but as the Missouri river, with its swampy banks, lies between them, Omaha has the best of the fight, catching all the western trade on its side of the rive. The depots and transfer office of the Union Pacific Railroad will be located in Council Bluffs. Omaha covets this prize, but by proclamation of the late lamented Lincoln, confirmed by the Department of the Interior and accepted by the Board of Directors of the Union Pacific Railroad, the award is made to Council Bluffs, which fact necessitates the building of a railroad bridge across the Missouri. This will prove of great benefit to Council Bluffs, and may possibly give it the lead of Omaha. Council Bluffs will eventually be the terminus of seven railroads, viz: The Union Pacific Railroad, the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific road, the Burlington and Missouri River road, the American Central Railroad, the Chicago and Northwestern Railway, the Council Bluffs and Sioux City Railway, the Council Bluffs and St. Josephs Railway. Of course these roads will vastly benefit the city, and that they will terminate there, together with the fact that the lands about and adjoining it are among the very best in the country, will prove an incentive to emigration. City lots and farm lands adjacent to the town are held at reasonably low figures.

EMIGRATION.

Let it be understood that we do not advise emigration to the west. While we desire to see this greater half of our country filling up, still we are not prepared to say that the smiling fields of Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia are less attractive to the farmer than the broad domains of prairie lands, stretched out as a tempting bait to encourage emigration. If farmers are not doing well at home, are discontented with their lot, and have not lost their love for hard labor and incessant toil, then we say, travel west and sink the plow point where success and prosperity are sure to follow. But if they are doing well, can make both ends comfortably meet, and are contented and happy on their fertile lands, we say by all means stay at home. Pioneer life is not the most pleasant or most agreeable. Turning barren and uncared for soil into bountiful grain fields and prolific vegetable gardens is not a task to be envied, especially in the yet uncultured and partially uncivilized west. Young men who understand the science of agriculture, and who wish to locate in permanent homes, should come out west and settle. It will eventually pay them. They cannot fail if they are possessed with sufficient energy and goaheaditiveness. But, this great new country does not need an army of delicate clerks, nor indeed robust ones, unless they can perform a square day's work in driving mules and rolling logs. It is the greatest mistake in the world for young men who are unwilling to become producers to emigrate from the Eastern cities. True, there are many here, and most of them are prospering; but they occupy the few places of the character offered, and there is no chance for new-comers. Book keepers and salesmen are not wanted in the west, and they had better stay at home where they can make a respectable living. Mechanics are not in demand either, although they might get along much better than the other class to which we have just alluded. Perhaps we are not expected to venture our advice in the direction of emigration, but the true interest of our readers is next and nearest our heart, and what we say during the excursion may be relied upon as faithful and correct so far as we are capable of observing and writing. Too many young persons become dissatisfied with home and getting a western fever, pull up their stakes, to try new regions about which they entertain vague and uncertain ideas. Nine tenths of them succeed in spending to no advantage their scanty supply of money, and after a fruitless search for something to turn up, return home to exaggerate the privations and hardships of the West and to speak no good word of the land where industry, hard toil, energy and perseverance are the winning cards in the lone game for success. There is still another class of genteel emigrants who come this way to work out their fortunes, and are about as badly sold as men can well be. We refer to second-class young lawyers and doctors. Impressed with the idea that what is deemed second or third rate ability in a large city like Pittsburgh will be taken as the true coin out west where the people are not supposed to know much, they come either expecting to mount to the top of their profession at one stride and to astonish the natives with their ability and wonderful knowledge. But they are deceived. The cities and towns of the West contain as many bright men of culture and learning as does the East. The standard of merit is as high as in Boston, and no class will be found willing to take stock in the counterfeit of genius. If they are really worthy of support and have the talent and learning to back up their pretensions, they will prosper, but if too weak to work up at home they may as well resign themselves to their fate. Let it be understood then that the West does not as yet actually need emigration, but it is well that farmers who are not satisfied with their present lot should wend their way hither. In a few years the school facilities of the Western will be fully as good as in the Eastern States, when emigration will be more inviting to the heads of families.

Omaha, where we are now quartered, will be the subject of my next letter. The party will leave to morrow (Tuesday) morning at daybreak for Cheyenne. H.

The Prisoners in the county jail on Saturday numbered ninety-eight, seventy-three males and twenty-five females.

The Mayor's Court.—Business at the Mayor's court will be lively this morning, as there are about fifteen cases to be disposed of.

Third Street.—The work of paving Third street from Ross to Try will be commenced immediately. The stones are already on the ground.

Assessors' Returns have been received at the Controller's office from eight districts only. The following are in addition to those published: Sixth ward, 1,412; Twelfth ward, 1,638.

Desertion.—Francis Morris made information on Saturday, before Justice Saulsbury, of Birmingham, against her husband, David Morris, for desertion and abandonment. A warrant was issued.

Fast Driving.—Michael Megraw was arrested by officer Searight yesterday evening for driving in a disorderly manner and at a too rapid pace on Fifth street. He was lodged in the lock-up and will have a hearing this morning.

Alderman Mullen, of the Fourth ward, Allegheny, on the petition of William F. Turner, was on Saturday directed to return to Court an information made against him (Turner) by N. S. Eyster, in order that it may be legally disposed of.

Good Time.—The walking match at Union Park, Saturday, was a success. Mr. James Oddy, who proposed to walk seven miles in an hour, made that distance in fifty-seven minutes and four seconds. A large crowd of spectators witnessed the feat.

Ewalt Street Bridge.—The incorporators to build a bridge across the Allegheny at Ewalt street, Thirteenth ward, (formerly Lawrenceville,) attention is called to notice in to-day's paper. Election for officers will be held on Friday, August 7th proximo. See notice.

Coroner' Inquest.—Coroner Clowson yesterday, held an inquest on the body of John Robinson, a colored man, who died in the county jail yesterday morning, where he had been committed on a charge of larceny. The jury found a verdict of "Death from natural causes."

Bitten by a Dog.—John Dun, a lad about three years of age, residing in the Fifteenth ward, was severely bitten by a dog belonging to Thos. French of that ward yesterday. The boy, accompanied by his father, came to the Mayor's office to make information against French for keeping a ferocious dog.

Alleged Robbery.—Archy Waner was arrested last evening in the Twelfth ward, and committed to the lock-up to answer a charge of larceny. It is alleged that he broke open a trunk belonging to Joseph Young, at a boarding house in the Twelfth ward, from which he took two hundred dollars.

Surety.—W. Colville, a tavern keeper in the Third ward, made information on Saturday before Alderman McMasters, against Stewart Craig for surety of the peace. It is alleged that Craig is indebted to Colville to the amount of $600, and when asked for it he threatened to knock the prosecutor's head off. A warrant was issued.

In Custody Again.—William alias "Snibbs" Arnold was arrested last evening by officer O'Donnell while acting in a disorderly manner on Wylie street. While on the way to the lock-up "Snibbs" evinced a disposition to resist the officer and drew a hatchet from under his coat with which he threatened to strike the officer, when he received a stroke with the mace which prevented any further difficulty. He will have a hearing this morning.

Arrival of an Excursion Party.—A short time since a party, composed of the Vice President and a number of the Directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad, with some friends, started on an excursion to the terminus of the Pacific Railroad. They arrived in our city on their return on Friday evening by special train from Columbus. The train which conveyed them made the run from Columbus to Pittsburgh in four hours and twenty-four minutes, being an average of forty-four miles an hour.

The Fallen Stack.

We learn that the stack at Coward's brick yard will be re-built within the next two weeks, and the works will be in operation within a week from that time. In our account of the fall of the stack we stated that the property was but slightly injured, which appears to have been incorrect. The engine house was seriously damaged and the boilers considerably injured. The stack had just been completed and the scaffolding had not yet been removed. It is presumed that had the scaffold been removed the stack would have weathered the storm.

Who Owns Them?

On Monday evening of last week a boy residing on Hand street brought to the Mayor's office a small canvass box, containing a gold watch and a complete set of burglars' tools, which he stated he had found under a board pile in Duquesne way, between Hand and Canal streets. The watch is an open faced gold watch of Tobias' mark, and attached to it is a gold seal with a cornelian set, a bone or ivory hook, and a small gold chain from which the hook has been broken. The owner of the watch can have it by calling at the Mayor's office and proving property, and the burglar is merely requested to call for the tools, as the Mayor is anxious to get them off his hands.

Mysterious Disappearance.

A German named Otto Katlin, a resident of McClure township, left his home on Thursday morning and came to the city for the purpose of transacting some business, and has not been heard from since. The last account had of him is to the effect that he had obtained considerable money which was due him from Messrs. Hughes & Barker, General Agents of the Jersey Life Insurance Company in this city. His wife was at the Mayor's office Saturday with a view of obtaining information concerning her husband, and is exceedingly anxious lest some mishap has befallen him. The man is a carpenter by trade and of ate habits. He had about two hundred and seventeen dollars in his possession when he left the office of the above company.

REPUBLICAN MASS MEETING IN ALLEGHENY CITY.

Large Crowd--Stirring Speeches--Great Enthusiasm.

According to previous announcement the Republican citizens of the First Ward, Allegheny, assembled en masse on Saturday evening, at the foot of Marion avenue, to ratify the National nominations and platform, and inaugurate an active campaign in that district. Some time before the hour appointed the assemblage commenced to gather, and at eight o'clock, when the meeting was called to order, over three thousand voters had assembled at the stand, all of whom seemed animated with a spirit of the most hearty enthusiasm. The band discoursed several patriotic airs, after which, on motion of Major Stockton, a permanent organization was effected by calling to the chair Josiah King, Esq., President of the First ward Grant and Colfax Club, with the following list of Vice Presidents and Secretaries.

Vice Presidents—O. O. Phillips, David Smith, Henry Irwin, C. Yeager, Alexander Hanna, John Atwell, F. Snowden, William McKee, John Siddins, Edward Gregg, J. Frazer, Thomas Beatty.

Secretaries—Jno. Sweeny, Sam'l McKain, Jos. A. Calvin, Jos. Quartz and Alfred Scandrett.

Mr. King on assuming his position thanked the audience for the honor conferred upon him, and expressed great satisfaction at the large number present, showing as it did that the Republicans of the First ward, Allegheny, were fully alive to the importance and magnitude of the struggle in which they were engaging. Though he would be prevented by physical disability from entering as actively as he desired into the campaign, yet his whole heart was in the work. He made a few remarks in regard to the Democratic party, showing that their object was to undo that which had been done. We were apt to attach too little importance to public matters; but every man who desires the welfare of his country should think of it as a part of his religion, and especially on the eve of a struggle like the present promised to be we should take more account of affairs. The policy of the Democratic party as announced through their press and candidates was revolutionary in its character, and every patriot, every one who feared a repetition of the scenes of the last rebellion, should go to work actively in laboring for their defeat. He cared not for Grant and Colfax as men, but the principles which they represent were all important and vital. We are abundantly able to accomplish all that is desired if we were earnest and active in our labors. Organization, co-operation, co-sacrificing, were the means by which victory would be earned in November.

Hon. Russell Errett was next introduced to the assemblage. Mr. Errett said the subject nearest his heart in the present canvass was organization. He was a member of the County Committee and he wished to urge upon all the importance and necessity of a more perfect organization. He had urged the importance of this in the last campaign in this State, and the Republican party owed the loss of the election of their candidate for the Supreme Judgeship to the listlessness in this matter, and it was these and kindred defeats in 1867 which made the Democratic party jubilant to-day. The issue was more important now than then. If the Democratic party succeeds in this contest there is great danger to the country. Already rebels in the South, in anticipation of triumph for their friends of the "lost cause," are throwing off the mask and boldly saying, backed as they are by their odious platform, represented by Seymour and Blair, that the South remained unconquered. In 1868 the same battle has to be fought over as that which was contested in the field, and to defeat them work was necessary. He was glad, however, to see that the same old spirit animated the Republican party, and all that had to be done was to keep this spirit alive to the close. If he was to comprise in one word all that was necessary it would be "organize." No party had ever succeeded unless it did this, and no party could succeed without it. There were votes enough to win victory, and all that was necessary was to get them out. Let every man, not depending on his neighbor, go to work himself in this matter and see that the votes come out. Let the State be carried by the Republican party in October and the election in November was sure, and as goes the Old Keystone so goes the Union.

At the close of Mr. Errett's speech three rousing cheers were given for the speaker and for each of the candidates, Grant and Colfax.

Mr. R. J. Powers, of Ohio, was the next speaker. He said he felt complimented in the honor conferred in the invitation to address the meeting. A stranger in the place, but lately taking up his abode in this vicinity from Ohio, he felt diffident and embarrassed in speaking to people with whom he was not acquainted. But it occurred to him that no man, no matter where he come from, could refrain on such an occasion from advocating such a glorious cause as that which they had undertaken. It was the first time since the close of the rebellion that the people were called upon to choose a Chief Magistrate, and it seemed to be the thought of every man, to which party should I attach myself. He had known the Democratic party for a long time and he didn't know anything good of them, and he couldn't see why they could, in the face of their past history, so positively assert that they were the lovers of the Union. The gentleman then reviewed the party in scathing style for some time, showing that it was composed mainly of sympathizers with the rebellion and of rebels themselves.

Major A. M. Brown was the next speaker. After indulging in some felicitous remarks, which set his hearers in a roar of laughter, he proceeded in eloquent and most convincing style to review the two parties which appeared before the American people to-day for their suffrage. He related a thrilling incident of the war which displayed General Grant's capacity as a leader in a marked degree. In the evening after the second day's fight in the Wilderness, when both armies had retired from the contest, Grant called his officers around him to hold a council of war in regard to the next day's operations. When they had gathered in his tent he asked one by one for an opinion; but all was doubt and fear. Retire to rest and reorganize for a few days was the general opinion. General Grant, seeing this state of affairs would be disastrous to the cause, showed them its impracticability and ordered an immediate organization of the army so that it could be ready at the earliest dawn for the fight. The army was organized that night, and the next day the contest was renewed and continued until victory perched upon its banners. He had engaged to fight under such a leader, and with him who had before given rebels cold lead, he now proposed to organize immediately and give them Colfax.

The speaker then gave a graphic description of the Convention at Chicago which nominated Grant, showing its unanimity of purpose and feeling and its representation of the interests of the people of the country. The Democratic Convention was then handled without gloves by the Major in his inimitable and scorching style and at considerable length. In conclusion, he paid a glowing tribute to the patriotism of Allegheny county, which had given so much money and men in support of the war, and he felt it was a waste of words to tell the people of such a country what to do. They could never so far forget their former actions as to lend their aid in electing men representing the principles of Seymour and Blair to power. (Cries of no, never, never.) The principles for which they had so freely given of their treasures to support were still guiding them, and would continue so to do until the loyal, the brave, the Union candidates were placed at the helm of State.

H. C. Mackrell, Esq., was the next speaker. He said it had been his privilege to engage in other contests of this kind, and he considered this the greatest that had ever appealed to the sympathies and hearts of a Union loving people. The question before every man was, are you going to give up that which has cost four years of war and millions of treasure? The real candidate of the Democratic party was F. P. Blair. It was expected that the excitement of a political campaign would so injure the health of Seymour that he would be compelled, even if elected, to resign, and then Blair, the renegade Blair, the revolutionist Blair, the sympathizer with rebels, would take the reins of power, and anarchy and ruin would speedily follow. The speaker then took up the principles of the party, and at some length showed the evil which be brought upon the country if they should prevail, pictured the dire results of a government conducted on such principles, and closed with an earnest appeal to every lover of the Union to come up to the help of the only true party in the present struggle.

John M. Kirkpatrick, Esq., being now introduced, remarked that this was not the time properly to ventilate the atrocities of the Democratic party. This was an hour for congratulation, and under the summer stars and stars and stripes they had gathered to say this: "our glorious Union must and shall be preserved." He had thought of not entering the present campaign, but he found the Democratic party not yet dead and he wished to add his influence in hastening that happy consummation. He congratulated the Republicans of the First ward on the auspicious opening which they had made. With such a spirit abroad in the land there was no cause for dismay. The men who followed the battle line, the men who carried the flag to victory, will vote as they shot, and if we live till next November we will have the honor of elevating the greatest man in the Union, Ulyssus S. Grant. During the Democratic meeting at he Battery, in Pittsburgh, a few evenings since, a speaker from St. Louis, named Smithers, in the course of his remarks, intending to be very sarcastic, contemptuously asked the question, "What shall we call this man Gran?" A voice coming from the opposite side of the street answered, saying, "call him Unconditional Surrender." So he would call him Unconditional Surrender, and under his leadership, and falling into line beneath the glorious Stripes and Stars, the Republican party would march onward to complete victory in November.

At the conclusion of Mr. Kirkpatrick's speech the band struck up the Star Spangled Banner, after which the Chairman announced that as the hour was late the meeting would be adjourned, and the vast crowd slowly dispersed.

The Old Methodist Graveyard—Meeting of the Lot Owners—The Commissioners are Willing to Compromise.

A meeting of the lot owners in the old Methodist Graveyard was held Saturday evening, at the Eleventh ward public school house, for the purpose of hearing the report of the Committee appointed at a previous meeting to confer with the Commissioners, and look after the interests of the lot owners. The meeting was composed of about fifty persons, white and black, of both sexes, representing perhaps about one-fifth of the lot owners. The proceedings, the business, and the only sensible portions of which we give below, were of a rather unsatisfactory nature. It appears that the Commissioners at present are not as much at fault as some few hard-headed, ignorant persons would have the public believe, but on account of their ignorance and unwillingness to come to any terms and their desire to get the matter into the Courts, the great majority of the lot owners, who are reasonable men and willing to settle the matter upon equitable terms, are prevented from so doing. Two or three men of this class have conceived the idea that the old graveyard is of immense value, and that every lot owner, if he gets his proportion of the proceeds of the sale, will become a millionaire, and with this exalted idea refuse to come to any terms, and insist upon taking the matter to the Courts to test the legality of the act of Assembly vacating the burying ground and authorizing the Commissioners to remove the bodies. The meeting was organized at eight o'clock, when, on motion, Mr. I. D. Gardner was called to the chair, Mr. McKean acting as Secretary.

Mr. Gardner, on taking the chair, stated that the meeting had been called by the Committee appointed to confer with the Commissioners, &c., to hear their report.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

Mr. George Wilson, from the Committee, presented a verbal report. He stated that he, in conjunction with the other members of the Committee, had visited Mount Union and Hilldale Cemeteries, and that lots could be obtained in the former for $15 each, and in the latter at $40. He further stated that ninety-five lots could be obtained for $35 each.

Mr. Chapman, from the Committee, stated in addition that the price of lots in the above cemeteries had advanced five dollars since the Commissioners had commenced the negotiation with the Companies.

Mr. Kincaid was called upon to state what the Commissioners intended to do. He said that he did not attend the meeting as a Commissioner, but was there as a lot holder. He could not tell what the Commissioners proposed doing with reference to the claims of the lot owners, but as to their intention with reference to the proposed sale of the property by the Sheriff, he stated that the Commissioners had been endeavoring to procure money to pay off the claims of the city and stop the sale, and Mr. Parker, one of the Commissioners, had informed him that he had raised sufficient money to meet the claims.

He further stated that he had urged upon the Commissioners the propriety of settling with the lot owners upon the terms proposed, viz: The Commissioners to pay the lot owners $30 each, the lot owners to remove their own dead, and that he had proposed to the Commissioners to assist the poorer persons in removing their dead, which the Commissioners agreed to, but refused to bind themselves to do so.

Mr. Henry wished to know what right the Commissioners had to sell the ground. He stated that in 1834 the ground was purchased for three thousand dollars, and that they had realized over $19,000 out of it. The lots owners owned it in fee simple, and no one else had any claim upon it.

He also desired to know what became of the jewelry and other valuables which had been taken from the graves.

Capt. Andrew Miller stated that the lot owners need not trouble themselves about the proposed sale of the property by the Sheriff, that it would not affect their rights in the least. He said that he as one of the Committee had a conversation with Mr. Vankirk, one of the Commissioners, who expressed himself willing to come to terms with the lot owners. He was willing to expend all the money that could be realized from the sale of the ground in the removal of the dead, and payment of the claims against the graveyard; and suggested that the lot owners appoint a Committee to act in conjunction with the Commissioners, in purchasing lots and removing the dead. He said that this was the feeling of the Commissioners.

A colored man stated that he had purchased a lot in the Allegheny Cemetery, and if the Commissioners would pay him what he paid for it, and remove his dead to it, he was willing to settle.

Several others addressed the meeting, most of whom, it appeared, had no desire to come to terms with the Commissioners, but only desired to abuse them and object to any proposition tending toward a settlement of the difficulties.

A lot owner said that the matter had been talked of for a long time, but that nothing definite had been arrived at, and he would now move that the Committee appointed be continued and authorized to procure legal advice immediately and bring the matter before the Court, where it could be definitely settled.

A gentleman moved to amend by adding that each lot owner be required to contribute the sum of five dollars to defray the expenses of the suit.

At this point an old gentleman, who had, during the whole evening been growling about the manner in which the Commissioners had removed the strangers, or as he called them, the "single interments" from the graveyard, and disputing their authority to do so, wished to know if the gentleman who made the motion to amend was a lot owner.

Mr. Henry stated that at all previous meetings a number of outsiders had been run in on them to vote down any resolution calculated to benefit the lot owners, and he was not going to submit to it. He further said that the Commissioners should not have possession of his lot while he lived, unless they paid him full value for it.

The gentleman who made the motion to amend, then replied that he was not a lot owner, but that he represented his brother, who owned a lot.

Mr. Kincaid opposed the resolution with a very forcible argument.

Capt. Miller also opposed the resolution. He said that he did not think it prudent to take the matter into court, as it would only prolong the difficulty.

After some further discussion the motion was withdrawn.

Mr. George Wilson moved that the Commissioners be requested to call a meeting of the lot owners and ascertain what number of persons desire lots, and also upon what terms a settlement can be made.

Mr. Chapman moved to amend by requesting that the Commissioners settle with the lot owners.

The old gentleman who had found fault with the "single interments," opposed the motion. He objected to dealing with such men as composed the Commission, and he moved that they be required to remove the bones of the strangers back to the graveyard and re-inter them "decently" and let the property alone.

A young man, whose personal appearance was by no means prepossessing, then took the floor and harranged the meeting with a five minutes speech, hurling insults at the Commissioners, and winding up by saying that the Committee appointed by the lot owners had been "manipulated," and were now acting in conjunction with the Commissioners.

The Committee therefore asked to be discharged.

Capt. Miller for the Committee replied to the charge in a pithy speech, which caused the young man who made it to sneak to the back part of the hall, where he kept quiet during the remainder of the time the meeting was in session.

The motion of Mr. Wilson as amended by Mr. Chapman was then adopted.

On motion the report of the Committee was received and the thanks of the lot owners tendered to them for the faithful manner in which they had attended to the duties of the appointment, and the Committee continued to attend to the interests of the lot owners.

On motion adjourned to meet this morning at the sale of the grave yard.

Stolen Watch Recovered.

Some weeks since a valuable watch was stolen from Mr. Hall, on Liberty street, and notwithstanding every effort was made to obtain some clue to the thief or the whereabouts of the property, both for a time proved unsuccessful. A circumstance recently occurred, however, which lead to the recovery of the watch and will probably lead to the conviction of the thief. A few days since a man giving his name as Leslie was arrested in Allegheny, after shooting officer Green of that city, for which he was held to bail in the sum of fifteen hundred dollars to answer a charge of felonious assault and battery, and in default thereof was committed to jail. In a conversation with Chief of Police Bowden of Allegheny, with reference to obtaining bail, he stated that he had a valuable watch in Pittsburgh which might be taken as security for his appearance. The officer thought nothing farther of the remark until the following day, when in conversation with Chief Green of this city, he was requested by that gentleman to be on the look out for a valuable watch which had been stolen from this city, whereupon he related to Green what Leslie had said. Green, like a wise man, kept his own council, and called upon Leslie at the jail, and obtained from him sufficient information to convince him that he was on the right track, and by using the proper means, induced the man to direct him or to go with him and show him the watch. He then obtained permission to take Leslie out of jail, from the proper authority, and was by him conducted to a board pile on the bank of the Allegheny river, near the Point, where the watch was secreted. The watch was secured, as was also the prisoner, who was recommitted. We learn that a handsome reward had been offered for the recovery of the watch, which will, of course, fall to Chief Green.

It is unfortunate for Messrs. Bowden and Green, of Allegheny, who were instrumental in securing the thief and indirectly the recovery of the property, that they did not follow the matter further and secure the reward to themselves.

Hair Brushing by Machinery.

One of the most novel inventions recently brought to the notice of the public is Camp's patent for brushing the hair by machinery. This neat little apparatus consists of a circular brush, having a rotary motion given to it by an endless gum band or belt extending from machinery attached to the ceiling, directly over the chair in which the subject sits. The operator then connects the brush to the gum band, which is sufficiently elastic to admit of being moved from one portion of the head to another. The invention although new is coming into general use throughout the country, and in a short time no barber shop will be complete without it. Mr. George Falkenstein, 135 Liberty street, next door to Hare's Hotel, has the "machine" in complete running order in his excellent and well conducted establishment. The sensation experienced while undergoing a brushing by machinery is a most delightful one, and beyond all description. We can only say that it is a "charming new sensation," and would advise all who have not tried it to do so immediately. Remember the place is at Falkenstein's Liberty street, next door to Hare's Hotel.

Fatal Accident—Man Killed on the Connellsville Railroad—The Body Horribly Mutilated—Coroner's Inquest.

An accident occurred on the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad about three o'clock yesterday morning, which resulted in the death of Peter Dean, formerly a resident of the old Third ward, which he represented in the City Councils at one time. About a year since Mr. Dean removed to Laughlin's Station, on the P. & C. Railroad, in the Twenty-third ward, where he has since resided. He was in the lower portion of the city on Saturday, and started to go home on the McKeesport Accommodation train, which leaves the Depot at 10:30 P. M., and being considerably intoxicated, failed to get off the train at Laughlin's station and was carried to Brown's, where he attempted to jump off after the train had started from the station. The conductor, who happened to be near him, observed his movement and catching hold of his coat held him until he could stop the train. Before letting him off he tried to persuade him to go to Braddock's Station, thinking by that time he would be sober, but he would not agree to go. He was then put off at Brown's Station at 11:25, and left standing on the platform. Nothing more was seen of him until about five o'clock Sunday morning, when the body was found lying between the rails near Brown's station. It is presumed that the unfortunate man sat down upon the track and probably fell asleep, and that the through freight, which passes that point at about three o'clock, passed over him, as it is the only train which passes during the night after the McKeesport accommodation and to strengthen this supposition blood was found upon the wheels of the freight train. The body was terribly mutilated, the wheels having passed directly over it. Coroner Clawson was notified and held an inquest yesterday, when the jury returned a verdict of accidental death, relieving the employees of the road and company from any blame in the matter.

The deceased was about forty-five years of age, and leaves a widow and seven children.

Frightful Runaway.

Saturday evening, about seven o'clock, Dr. Wishart's horse, which was attached to a buggy and standing in front of the Doctor's residence on Wylie street, one door below Chatham, took fright and ran away slightly injuring Willie Sullivan, a little boy about eight years of age, and literally demolishing the buggy. Doctor Wishart's son, a boy about fourteen years of age, was standing at the horses head trying to put the bridle on which he had by some means managed to get off, and there were three smaller boys, one of whom was Willie Sullivan, standing in front of the horse when he started. The first jump he made all of the smaller boys were knocked into the middle of the street and the larger one held fast to the horse, which, in his efforts to free himself from the buggy, stepped on the boy, slightly cutting the back of his head. The buggy passed over all of them, but strange as it may appear inflicted no injury. The boy having hold of the horse held to him until near Tunnel street, when he was forced to let go to prevent being jammed against a lamp post. The horse turned down Tunnel street and left the buggy before reaching the avenue and was caught on the opposite side of the Fourth street road.

Dr. Augustine ran out of his drug store, carried the injured boy in and dressed his injuries, which were very slight, after which the mother of the child, who resides on Chatham street, a few doors below Wylie, carried him home. The other two boys were terribly frightened, and as soon as the buggy passed over them regained their feet and ran to their homes.

There are more Weed Sewing Machines sold in Pittsburgh and vicinity than all others put together—fifty per week, and some weeks more; and the reference list shows that where one is sold it is always followed by others. Its simplicity of construction, and the ease in operating, and not being liable to get out of order, have established for it a well merited reputation.
